

Coronavirus update

Very sadly, all church services across the Two Valleys have been cancelled for the foreseeable future until we are advised otherwise, following Government advice and instruction from our Archbishops.

Our local churches will remain open in daylight hours for people to visit for prayer and reflection.

However, we are intending to record some short videos of services and reflections that will be posted on a new Group forming on Facebook called “Two Valleys Churches.” In these days of isolation, I would strongly encourage anyone interested to join Facebook and also become members of this particular Group. This could be a vital way for congregation members to feel connected and supported through this period and for some spiritual input to be shared....

We will need this more than ever, as all of us will struggle with this level of isolation and lack of community.

However, we will also need to look out for those who do not have access to a computer, smartphone or tablet and ensure that we keep in regular telephone contact with those who are most isolated – a human voice is much appreciated.

Kind regards to all,
Rev. Michael Woodcock
